

Antislavery Speech

Instructions: Imagine that it is 1841 and you are Frederick Douglass. Use the following framework to write a four-paragraph antislavery speech to be presented at an antislavery convention. Be empathetic! Consider Douglass's perspective and experiences, and try to imagine what he lived through in the 1800s.

Introduction: What is your hook? What is your claim?

Body: What personal experiences can you share to engage your audience?

Name: _____

Date:

Body: What are your main arguments against slavery?

Conclusion: What is your call to action?
