Student Questions for Employers

When you're in an interview, it's a chance for you to ask questions, too. What would you want to know about the job, the company, or the people you might work with?

Examples to get started:

- What does a typical day in this role look like?
- What kind of training or support would I get when I start?
- How do team members usually work together here?
- What qualities do you look for in someone who succeeds in this role?
